

Is your teenager showing signs of substance use? YSS is here to help. Our successful Residential Addiction Treatment program offers evidence-based services in a safe, homelike environment.

LEADING THE WAY

YSS's proven and innovative approach to substance use disorder treatment has helped 5,000 youth across lowa.

- We offer an environment focused on recovery and well-being.
- + Gender-specific treatment gives youth support designed to meet their specific needs.
- Highly trained counselors help build coping skills, practice trauma informed care, and motivate youth to be successful.
- Youth continue their education while in treatment and, in many cases, are able to catch up on high school credits they previously missed.
- Our financial team works with each family to find a funding option that meets your needs, and we accept most commercial insurance.

IN THIS TOGETHER

We understand the importance of family on the journey to recovery. At YSS, family is integrated into treatment through visits, family therapy, and virtual parent information sessions.

Throughout the year, Strengthening Family Weekends allow current residents and their family members to come together for trainings, meals, and games. We teach parents how to support their kids through bonding, setting boundaries, and monitoring.
